International Management

Master of Arts

3 Semester

International Management

Are you interested in a management position in an international organisation? Do you want to be effective and make a difference in today's complex world of international business? Do you want to study in English as part of an international student cohort? Then it is worth taking a look at our 3 semester Master programme in International Management.

Compact Profile

Degree: Master of Arts (M. A.)

Study form: Full-time-studies on campus, second semester at a partner university in a foreign country, double degree possible

Semester start: Summer semester

Study period: 3 semester

Teaching language: English

ECTS-credits: 90

Study Objective

After your studies, you will have gained knowledge and capability in the integration of complexity and change into management and decision-making. You will also have a command of core areas of international management.

This knowledge and capability opens up a number of opportunities for you as a practising manager. You will be competent in adopting a global perspective as a manager. Negotiation and decision-making will be key assets that enable you to operate effectively in a global business context. The ability to think holistically and consider the relationships between issues as they affect the organization will further support your managerial ambitions.

Furthermore, you will be able to bridge cultural differences across the organisation's activities and relationships.

Finally, you will be qualified to study for a doctoral degree in Germany and abroad.
